

Sunny greetings from Anklam

Dear reader,

the year proceeds quickly, summer is at its best and also at Anklam Extrakt a lot has been going on:

In this newsletter we would like to draw your attention on our new certifications, which are of great importance especially for our customers in the food industry. Suitably in addition, we would like to introduce to you some of our new food extracts and – as usual our plant of the month – the elder.

The team from Anklam Extrakt Team wishes you a splendid summer.

Our new certifications

After having been awarded with the GMP- and the HACCP-certificate, Anklam Extrakt is now also HALAL and Kosher certified. The „HALAL“ certificate labels foods, cosmetics and other consumer goods, which are unobjectionable pure and therewith allowed from the islamic point of view. The Kosher-Certificate records nourishments which are appropriate according to the Kashrut principles.

New food extracts

Next to health, convenience and sustainability, naturalness and „clean labels“ are important trends in the food sector.

„Food has to taste good, otherwise it is not perceived high-quality.“ This is what 96 % of consumers say according to the consumer study „Customer’s choice“.

Black tea, green tea and fruit tea extracts are popular ingredients for numerous products. Our premium extracts, which are particularly produced for the food industry, distinguish themselves by their especially good taste and their outstanding solubility. Therefor these products are ideally suited for the usage in functional beverages, sweets and milk products.

Our standard product range covers:
Rooibus, rosehip, chamomile, cinnamon, lemon grass, gingko, hibiscus, peppermint, thyme, ginger, balck tea and green tea, elder blossom and elderberry extract.

Our plant of the month July: the elder

The elder (sambucus) is a genus of the moschatel family (adoxaceae). „Mother Hulda’s bush“ is said to have magical powers. Hippocrates compared the plant, which is indigenous in Middle Europe, to a medicine cabinet with doors opening twice a year:

// The elder

In spring the elder has bright white blossoms, which are considered to be a natural all-round medication with pleasant effects for rheumatism, gout, fiber or even insomnia.

In autumn the elderberries are maturing. The black fruits are rich in vitamin c which is why the juice is highly recommended for coughs and sneezes.

Not only is the elder well known for its functional effects, but also for its taste. It is used for beverage concentrates, herbal or ice teas, soft drinks, energy drinks and others.
