LATEST NEWS ON DELPHINOL® BONE HEALTH - PATENT PENDING

In a preclinical bone loss model that simulates menopause, it was shown that oral administration of Delphinol® significantly reduces hormonally induced loss in bone density. This finding suggests that Delphinol® may be a promising natural ingredient for healthy aging by not only inhibiting bone resorption but also stimulating new bone formation.

To protect this innovation, a patent was published on September 2nd, 2020 under the name "Maqui Berry Extracts for use in the treatment or prevention of bone disorders".
