

Issue 64 / April 2022

Dear reader,

What do e-gamers and office workers have in common? Exactly: many hours in front of a screen. As most of us have already experienced, this form of work is accompanied by some unpleasant side effects. We tense up, our eyes become dry and we are increasingly tired and inattentive.

Of course, it is common knowledge that getting enough sleep, regular breaks and exercise, getting fresh air and drinking enough water can aid our well-being. In addition to that, nutrition can also help us to stay fit. To tackle the main issues of long screen times we came up with a concept of possible ingredients. This concept works with maximal flexibility: three extracts produced by Anklam Extrakt GmbH and vitamins and minerals with an EFSA claim as add ons. It is up to you to mix and match the ingredients.

MAQUIBRIGHT[®] HELPS TO ALLEVIATE DRY EYE RELATED SYMPTOMS

- MaquiBright[®] significantly enhances tear fluid production
- MaquiBright[®] protects photoreceptor cells from light-induced cell death
- MaquiBright[®] significantly relieves dry-eye related symptoms like stiff shoulders

COGNITAVEN[®] AND MATE FOR COGNITIVE PERFORMANCE AND ENERGY

- cognitaven® significantly improves working memory and has a beneficial influence on speed and accuracy during multitasking
- Mate extract is known for its natural content of caffeine and therefore supports the energy level

VITAMINS AND MINERALS

Vitamin A helps to maintain normal vision*

Zinc helps to maintain normal cognitive function*

*EFSA Health Claim available
