

Issue 68 / September 2022

Dear reader,

More and more consumers realise that nutrition can actively support healthy skin. This is also reflected by a significant growth of supplement launches with a skin health claim. According to nutrition insight the category has an average annual growth of +60% (Global, CAGR 2017-2021). Interestingly, one dosage form also stands out. Gummies are the fastest expanding format with an average annual growth of +115% (Global, CAGR 2017-2021).*

Together with our partners, we have designed two different dosage forms with our unique ingredient Delphinol®. The maqui berry extract Delphinol® is a natural solution for healthy looking skin and vivid appearance. It helps to delay cell ageing processes by protecting the telomeres and prevents collagen fiber degradation and thus helps to maintain skin elasticity.
