

Issue 71 / February 2023

Dear reader,

Dry eyes are a well-known phenomenon in today's society. It is estimated to occur at a rate of 5%-30% in the general population. How do you recognise dry eyes, what are the causes and how can nutritional supplements help?

During the webinar you will learn important details on dry eyes from everyday practice from an ophthalmologist's point of view. To expand your product portfolio in the field of eye health, we will also introduce you to a treasure of nature. MaquiBright® (an anthocyanin enriched extract of the maqui berry) proved its efficacy on dry eyes in clinical studies, making it a perfect candidate as food supplement ingredient for eye health.
