

Issue 73 / April 2023

Dear reader,

More and more consumers realise that nutrition can actively support a healthy looking skin. Today many consumers see the skin as an external reflection of how they feel inside. If you look good, you feel good and vice versa! 67% of consumers see a connection between a healthy looking skin and general well-being.* This is also reflected by a significant growth of supplement launches with a skin health claim. The global nutricosmetics market sees a CAGR of 8.05% during the forecast period, 2021-2026.

Elevate your product line with the power of Delphinol® as an innovative and unique ingredient to address beauty from within.

NEW STUDY RESULTS ON DELPHINOL® - BEAUTY FROM WITHIN

New study results on the NutraIngredients Awards finalist Delphinol® revealed its protective effect on human skin cells after exposure to blue light. This lines up with previous studies that showed different positive effects of Delphinol® in the area of beauty from within.

Sun damage to the skin is not only caused by UV light. While UV light only makes up about 5% of the sunlight spectrum, there is also infrared and the so-called visible light, which includes blue light.

Blue light is very energetic, which means it is harmful to the skin e.g. by generating free radicals. It is also emitted by screens as artificial blue light. With its 400 - 500 nm, blue light can lead to oxidative stress in our dermis and epidermis, thus causes skin cells to age faster (photoageing).

DELPHINOL® - THE NATURAL SOLUTION FOR HEALTHY LOOKING SKIN AND A VIVID APPEARANCE

In summary, the following was proven for Delphinol®:

- Protection against oxidative stress and light-damage
- Delaying cellular ageing processes by protecting the telomeres
- Prevention of collagen fiber degradation and thus support to maintain skin elasticity & firmness
- Anti-inflammatory properties
